Sê : Biinêkirinên Komên Opozisyona Çekdar

Opposition armed groups bombed areas controlled by the Syrian government forces including Abu Zohour airport, Al-Sqailbieh, Mharada, Al-Bahas, Shizar, Zalin checkpoint, Jourine, Shalyout, Salhab and Jobb al-Doktor checkpoint, killing at least one person.

The recent attacks by the Syrian government forces on the towns and cities of the governorates of Hama and Idlib have failed to comply with the basic principles of International Humanitarian Law such as the principle of distinction, which states the need to distinguish between civilians and military personnel. Moreover, International Humanitarian Law prohibits indiscriminate attacks and the targeting of civilians or civilian objects.

The Violations Documentation Center strongly condemns the targeting by all parties of civilian infrastructures whose only purpose is to provide basic necessary services. These facilities must be respected and protected at all times. This rule is implicit in the Common Article 3 of the four Geneva Conventions of 1949 ratified by Syria. Under customary international law, "medical units" refer to all medical infrastructures, whether military or civilian.

The VDC urges the international community and UN bodies to shoulder their responsibilities and put pressure on the Syrian government forces and their allies to respect the rights of the civilian population and respect the laws that protect civilian personnel and objects in situations of internal armed conflict.

The VDC thanks all those on the ground who collaborate with them, putting their life at risk to support the effort to document crimes against humanity and human rights violations taking place daily in Syria, in order to help spread voices of victims and families to the international community.
